ADMISSION section

1. Removal of MAMLS and MA language to the Exceptions subpoint (p.41)

EXCEPTIONS

No Bachelor’s Degree (M.Div.)

In accordance with The Association of Theological Schools (ATS) standards, up to 15% of students in Masters level, ministry-related degree programs (M.Div.) may be admitted without possession of a bachelor’s degree or its educational equivalent. These individuals must demonstrate that they possess the knowledge, academic skill, and ability generally associated with persons who hold a bachelor’s degree in order to be considered for admission. Admission of such applicants is rare and is restricted to those with sufficient preparation for theological study at the graduate level. Applicants are to be advised that some denominations may not accept the M.Div. degree as sufficient preparation for ordination unless preceded by the bachelor’s degree from an accredited institution.

TRANSFER POLICIES section

1. Updated final paragraph of the Transfer Policy to read as follows (p.45):

   Final paragraph – “If granted admission to a master's-level degree program, a student may transfer a maximum of 12 units of work of "B" or better, taken as a Non-Degree student. This work must not be more than eight years old. Non-Degree credits cannot be applied toward doctoral programs.”

ACADEMIC POLICIES AND PROCEDURES section

1. Updated contact person for the Minimum Grade Requirements (p.59):

   In the M.Div. and M.A. programs, the minimum grade acceptable for a required class is C- (1.7). Only free electives will be acceptable for graduation credit at a grade in the D range. In the D.Min. programs, course work must be completed at the B- level (2.7) or above to meet degree requirements. In the Ph.D programs, coursework must be completed at the B level (3.0) or above to meet degree requirements. For all degree programs students may not earn credit more than once for the same class. Students receiving Veterans’ benefits should contact the School Certifying Official.

2. Sentence added to the Policy on Incompletes (p.61)

   All work for incomplete courses should be submitted to both the instructor and to the Registrar.

3. Updated contact person for the Policy on Dropping and Withdrawal from a Course: (p.62)

   Students may drop Fall and Spring semester courses up until the end of the eighth week of the semester. Winter Term and Summer courses must be dropped by the deadline posted in the Academic Calendar and in the class schedule for the term. Any student who drops a course after the drop deadline for any term but before the last day of the term will be withdrawn from the course and be given a grade of “W”. To not attend or stop attending a course does not constitute a drop or withdrawal. Students who do not officially drop or withdraw from a course in which they are enrolled but not attending, will receive a non-passing grade of “UW” (Unofficial Withdrawal) in that course. This action will be noted on the transcript and will count the same as a grade of “F” in the student’s cumulative grade point average. Students with a pattern of incomplete or dropped courses will be subject to academic probation or termination. Students receiving Veterans’ benefits should contact the School Certifying Official before dropping or withdrawing from a course. Students may receive a full refund, a partial refund, or no refund of tuition depending on the date the course is dropped. Students should consult the Academic Calendar.

The Statute of Limitations for ALL Doctor of Ministry programs is now 5 years. This reduces the Statute of Limitations for both the Doctor of Ministry in Practical Theology of Conflict, Healing and Transformation in Korean Contexts and the Doctor of Ministry in Spiritual Renewal, Contemplative Practices and Strategic Leadership from 6 years to 5 years.

The Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.) is a 48-unit degree program that combines academic excellence and opportunities for vocational exploration with the goal of preparing students for

At least four courses must be taken in one of these areas. At the end of their program a student must complete a summative exercise which may take the form of a master’s thesis, a major paper, a project, or a capstone seminar.

The program is informed by the history of Christian reflection and practice, by deep and open dialogue between religious traditions, and by the quest to understand and respond constructively to the contemporary world. It presupposes the need for scholars and religious leaders who are able to positively engage the needs of the world through an understanding of past traditions, present dialogue, and a continuing quest for understanding and wisdom.

   Common Program Requirements
   Continuous Registration
   Students must be registered every semester during each academic year from the date of initial enrollment until graduation or termination. If no courses are being taken in a semester, students must register for Continuous Registration. Students who do not register for courses or for Continuous Registration will be terminated from their program unless they have an approved Leave of Absence. Nonpayment of Continuous Registration fees constitutes non-enrollment and terminates the student’s status at the School. Students are not charged Continuous Registration fees after their work for the degree is completed when this occurs between scheduled graduations.

2. In respect to the DMin Professional Project, the Library no longer requires or deposits print copies for archival or any other purpose. Only digital copies are placed in the institutional repository. This corrects language found in the 2016-2018 Catalog on page 115.

3. Regarding the Mentoring D.Min. program, both “TIS4003 Contexts of Ministry” and “TIS4005 D.Min. Thesis & Project Research Colloquium” are one week intensives. The 2016-2018 Catalog erroneously states that they are two week intensives (p. 112).

4. Updated language and procedures related to the Practical Research Project within the D.Min. in Spiritual Renewal, Contemplative Practice and Strategic Leadership. It now reads as follows (pp.121-122):

   The purpose of the D.Min. degree is to strengthen the practice of ministry; therefore the D.Min. professional project should deal with an issue, topic, or need in ministry. The Project is neither a Ph.D. dissertation nor a simple research paper. Students should select a practical research project topic for application in a particular leadership context and address the implications of their findings for that context. Projects should focus on the integration of theory and practice, including theological reflection on practice.

   The required Practical Research Project Workshops (within the Core Course intensives) will introduce and review Project parameters. The Project Workshops will help students identify applied research problems and questions, understand theoretical perspectives, access the relevant literature, and identify connections to the practice of strategic leadership.

   The Practical Research Project will:
   • Demonstrate an appropriate integration of students’ coursework and leadership formation with their experiences in relation to leadership settings.
• Demonstrate the student’s ability to identify a specific practical topic for application in ministry/service/leadership around the themes of spiritual renewal, contemplative practice, and/or strategic leadership.

• Apply strategic leadership strategies in relation to at least one leadership context.

• Utilize appropriate theories of analysis, engage effective models of practical research and application, and appropriately evaluate the results.

• Consist of 65 pages (16,250 words) to 85 pages (21,250 words) or equivalent, excluding Table of Contents, Bibliography, and Appendices (charts, graphs, etc.).

Students will:

• Be assigned to a faculty advisor by the end of the first Core Course intensive. The advisor will guide in developing the project proposal and completing the project, but not in course selection.

• Complete a Project Proposal that includes the following items (or equivalents, as formulated in consultation with faculty):

  o A statement of the problem or issue that is to be the subject of the Project.

  o A description of the context of the problem.

  o The justification for the Project: the need for it and the contributions it will make.

  o Background information on the problem to be addressed.

  o An explanation of the theoretical/conceptual stance of the student-researcher.

  o A discussion of appropriate research methods for the application and evaluation of the Project.

  o A detailed tentative outline.

  o A preliminary bibliography.

• Engage in peer review processes (with supervision from faculty) throughout the formulation of the Project Proposal and the development and completion of the Project.

• Students planning to graduate in the minimum time (28 months) will complete the Project according to the following timeline. Students planning on a longer timeline to graduation will adjust accordingly.

  o Identify the Project topic and develop a preliminary Project Proposal by September 15, before the second January Core Course. Submit for Institutional Review Board approval.

  o Complete revisions for proposal approval by December 1, before the second January Core Course.

  o During the second January Core Course, engage in peer review and begin work on the project.

  o Submit the first draft of the Project by December 1, before the third January Core Course.

  o Engage in a process of peer evaluation of the Project draft during the third Core Course and Project Workshop. This process will be facilitated by faculty.

  o Submit the final draft of the Project by April 1 of the following spring semester, for graduation in May.

All manuscripts of the Practice Research Project for the D.Min. in Spiritual Renewal, Contemplative Practice and Strategic Leadership must meet specified editorial standards and be digitized for distribution by the CST library’s digital library.

Please note that no student will also be allowed to graduate or participate in the commencement ceremony unless all academic work is complete, including Masters’ theses and Doctoral dissertations or projects.
5. Regarding the D.Min. in Spiritual Renewal, Contemplative Practice and Strategic Leadership, the “TIS4060 DMin Research Project Colloquium” course may be taken for 4 units in 1 semester, or for 2 units over 2 semesters.

THE DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY DEGREE PROGRAM section:

1. In respect to the Ph.D. dissertation, the Library no longer requires or deposits print copies for archival or any other purpose. Only digital copies are placed in the institutional repository. This corrects language found in the 2016-2018 Catalog on pages 128 and 139.

2. Added the following content regarding dissertation deadlines (pp.140-141):

   Deadlines
   It is highly encouraged that PhD candidates prearrange a date with their Committee Chair for submitting one to two chapters of the dissertation first draft for review during the Fall semester before they wish to graduate. Historically this date has been October 1, but any date may be discussed that best meets the needs of both the Committee Chair and the student.

   The first full draft of the dissertation, along with Form #7 (completed except for faculty signatures) is due to the Registrar by January 15 of the desired graduation year. The Registrar will forward an electronic copy of the draft to all committee members. January 15 is also the due date for submitting the first draft of the dissertation to the Thesis Secretary for review.

   Once the committee members have discerned that the dissertation is defensible, the candidate should schedule the oral defense date and submit Form #9. The last possible date for the dissertation oral defense (and submission of Form #10) is March 1.

   The final draft of the dissertation, along with Form #11 and the Signature Page is due to both the Registrar and the Thesis Secretary no later than April 1.

POLICY STATEMENTS section:

1. Updated final paragraph of the Policy on Harassment, Including Sexual Harassment to read as follows (p.176):

   A student who believes s/he has been harassed or subjected to any form of unlawful discrimination should promptly report the facts of the incident or incidents and the names of the individuals involved to the Title IX Coordinator, Vice President for Academic Affairs and Dean of Faculty, or the Associate Dean for Student & Community Life.

2. Updated final paragraph of the Sexual Harassment and Title IX Compliance Policy to read as follows (pp.176-177):

   Claremont School of Theology has appointed Ann Hidalgo, Acquisition Librarian, as the current Title IX Compliance Officer. The Title IX Compliance Officer is responsible for educating the Claremont School of Theology community, developing initiatives, and responding to incidents of gender inequality.

3. Added the Animal Policy (p.181). It reads as follows:

   CAMPUS ANIMAL POLICY
   Purpose:
   The policies below provide guidance for the campus regarding the presence of animals in buildings, on the grounds, inside classrooms, and living in on-campus apartments in Background:
These policies have been created for the context at the Claremont School of Theology. We recognize that this is a diverse, multicultural, and interreligious community where the presence of animals on campus will be met with a variety of responses. It is our intention that the policies outlined below reflect the concerns of both pet owners and those who do not have animals. We have endeavored to create policies that protect animals, people, and property alongside personal, legal, moral, ethical and religious worldviews that may sometimes collide to create a safe, welcoming, and accessible campus.

Definitions:
Animals: For purposes of this policy, animals that fall into the following three categories—pet, service animal and assistance animal.

Pet: Any domestic animal, bird or fish that resides with the student, staff or faculty member that is often kept for companionship and/or enjoyment. In most cases, pets stay within a residence and do not accompany individuals to work or school.

Service Animal: In the United States, a service animal is a dog that has been trained to perform a specific task. In some cases, a miniature horse will be considered a service animal. Service animals are covered by federal ADA and HUD regulations and do not require a request for reasonable accommodations on our campus.

Assistance Animal: An assistance animal includes any type of domestic animal that provides comfort, emotional support, etc. and is not trained to perform a specific task for the activities of daily living. Student, staff or faculty who wish to request reasonable accommodations to bring an assistance animal to class or other buildings not already permitted animal access, must register with the Disability Services through the Office of Student and Community Life and request such accommodation.

Animal Policy:
Animals are permitted on the grounds of the Claremont School of Theology campus, except where noted below. With the exception of service animals and assistance animals that are part of a reasonable accommodation, animals are prohibited in CST buildings other than individual housing units with a pet agreement on file, playground facilities associated with on-campus housing, all outdoor community or public events, and any location that threatens the safety of the animal or the individual it is accompanying. The CST Animal Policy will be in force in locations where CST is using classroom facilities in other off-campus locations, unless that facility’s policy has stricter guidelines in place.

Animals must meet the following expectations:

1) Animals must be leashed while on the campus grounds or inside buildings when permitted (Or if a service animal is not leashed, within 2-3 feet of the owner/handler or performing a task).
2) Animals must be under control of the owner/handler at all times.
3) Animals must not be disruptive to others, such as barking, whining, growling or initiating contact with other people.
4) Animals must not interfere with the instructional or business operations of CST.
5) Animals must be housebroken.
6) Animals must be healthy and free from fleas, ticks, other parasites, and disease.
7) Animals waste must be immediately attended to and removed by the owner/handler.
8) Animals must conform to the regulations set forth by the City of Claremont and the State of California (http://www.ci.claremont.ca.us/government/departmentsdivisions/code-enforcement), (http://www.qcode.us/codes/claremont/) (http://www.ivhsspca.org/animal-care/licensing/licensing-services.html):
a. No more than three adult dogs or cats are allowed in residences.
b. Dangerous or exotic animals must be approved by the City of Claremont.
c. Dogs must be leashed outside your fenced yard.
d. Dogs over the age of 4 months must be vaccinated against rabies and be licensed (Inland Valley Humane Society).
e. No large animals, fowl, pigeons, or doves may be maintained in any residence in the city other than a single-family residence.

Visitors
These guidelines are for students, staff, and faculty of the Claremont School of Theology as well as visitors to the campus.

Animals at Work
Animals are not permitted at work unless they are service animals or are assistance animals on campus as part of a reasonable accommodation for a documented disability.

Emergencies
In the case of emergency, the owner is responsible for the well-being and safety of the animal. First responders should be trained to recognize service animals and every care should be maintained to keep the animal with its owner.

Service Animal Policy:
Service animals are permitted on all the grounds and in all the buildings on the CST campus in accordance with the federal regulations in the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and outlined by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) for on-campus apartments. If it is unclear what service an animal provides, staff or faculty of CST may ask only the following two questions: 1) Is the animal a service animal required because of a disability? And if so, 2) What work or task has the animal been trained to perform? If the answers to the questions indicate that the animal is not a service animal or if the answers make that determination unclear, please contact the Disability Services Officer at 909-447-2590.

All service animals must adhere to all the behavior expectations outlined in the CST Animal Policy. Should a service animal need to be removed because it cannot adhere to the behavior expectations, the student, staff or faculty member may return to the CST campus without the service animal.

CST students, staff, or faculty who are training a service animal may bring it on campus if the animal adheres to all of the behavior expectations of a service animal. While an animal-in-training is not covered by the ADA, California code requires that the presence of a service animal-in-training be allowed in all locations on campus.

When the presence of a service animal conflicts with the needs of another student, staff or faculty member with a registered disability, the situation will be handled on a case-by-case basis and may include adjusting seating arrangements within the classroom, changing a class schedule, modifying a graduation requirement, etc. Considerations related to religious requirements and the challenges created by the presence of an animal will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

Animals in Housing
Pets, Service Animals and Assistance Animals that reside in housing apartments with their owners, must adhere to the expectations of animals on campus. In addition, the following guidelines are in place that meet both ADA and HUD regulations.
1. Owners are responsible for animals in their care. This includes the regular upkeep, feeding, and medical care of individual animals including vaccinations.

2. Owners are financially responsible and liable for any damage that their animal may make to the person and/or property or possessions of others.

3. Owners must pay a pet fee (outlined in the Pet Agreement), unless the animal is a service animal. Owners of service animals do not pay a pet fee for housing.

4. Owners are responsible for the clean up of animal waste created by their animal both inside the apartment as well as outside in any common area.

5. No one may regularly feed or provide care for stray, feral, or wild animals.

6. CST and pet owners will comply with any and all regulations or requests from the County of Los Angeles Department of Public Health, the City of Claremont, and/or the Inland Valley SPCA.

Enforcement and Consequences:

All members of the campus community are responsible for enforcing the Animal Policy. Concerns regarding the enforcement of the Animal Policy may be directed to Senior Director of Administrative Services, the Associate Dean for Student and Community Life, the Academic Dean, or the Facilities Administrative Assistant. The following consequences have been established for failing to keep the guidelines outlined above:

1. Verbal warning.
2. Written warning.
3. $100 fine.
4. Revocation of Housing Pet Privileges. Students with service animals are permitted to remain on campus in the event of the removal of a service animal in their care.
NEW COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

TPS3076/4076 Relational Theologies: Methodism and Process
Why does God allow innocent people to suffer? How does God relate to the world? Does God know the future? If God is "in control" do we have free will? Insufficient answers to these types of questions are a major reason why Millennials (and others) are leaving the Church in droves. Yet Open-Relational Theology, among the fastest growing theological movements in America today, offers alternative answers that many find appealing. This course is an introduction to Relational (and Open-Relational) thought by way of an introduction to both the Wesleyan and Process traditions. Students will explore the connections between Relational, Wesleyan, and Process frameworks, and the reasons why Process has been both extremely controversial and extremely influential in Methodist circles. Special guests will include leading figures such as Thomas Jay Oord, John Cobb, and others.

TPS3077/4077 Spirit Beyond Matter: Religions & Near Death Experiences
Of the many related questions regarding the existence of human mind and spirit beyond the bounds of matter and bodily existence, few are more vital for the meaning of human existence, at least in any reasonable religious and spiritual context, than whether or not the human mind, consciousness and spiritual perceptions are mere illusions of material organization or its emergent organic features, or a divine gift that not only owns some form of genuine reality, but even a kind of independence that would allow it to be considered deathless, not defined by the wearing away of the impermanent order of physicality, but related to a divine or eternal order or personality. Although we may not find a religious view that would not, in some sense, know of such a spiritual destiny, especially in the wake of materialist worldviews and the scientific inability to address non-physical realities, mind and spirit, consciousness and freedom have become questioned to the point of nonexistence. Recent approaches in the areas of the philosophy of mind, science, and religion as well as the longstanding spiritual traditions and religions, however, which argue for the difference and independence from physicality, and the profound elementary function of mind and spirit in the universe, are supported by the research into, and current increasingly scientific evidence from, near death experiences. The seminar will ask how such research has changed the equations of materialism, naturalism, and their philosophical and scientific expositions; whether it is bound to dualisms of mind and matter; how it is part of an ancient and persistent multireligious understanding of the journey of the soul, the survival of death, and the meaning of spiritual realms; but also why it has been critically received within the dogmatic limitations of diverse religious traditions; and whether it might be a future interreligious bridge between them.

TSF3019/4019 Christian Spiritualities Across the Ages is now cross-listed as THC3038/4038.
